Cincinnati Hothla.—No city in the Union of its size can boast of such well-conducted hotels as Cincinnati, and every day we see complimentary notices of them in the columns of newspapers abroad. The following deserved reference is from the Winchester (Ky.) Chroniele:

Madison House, Cincinnati.—Our recent visit to Cincinnati confirmed what we have long believed to be true, viz: that the Madison House, under the management of our amiable friend Dr. F. P. Cahill, is one of the best hotels in the West. We can say to our friends who visit that city—go there.

SCHOOL BOARD-PROGREDINGS LAST NIGHT The Board met at twenty-five minutes past seven, President King in the Chair. The minutes of the previous evening were read and on motion of Mr. Stratton, the schools were ordered to be dismissed-on Wednesday next, to permit the teachers and pupils to celebrate the birthday of Washington in an appropriate manner.

The contract for the creetion of the school house on the Ruffner property, was awarded to John H. Kelly, his bid ($33,265) being the lowest presented. J. W. Gosling and A. Dunlap & Co., are his sureties. The building will contain twenty-one rooms, and will be, when completed, the largest district school house in the city. Adjourned.

MEGHANICS' AND MANUPACTURERS' EXCHANGE

MECHANICS' AND MANUFACTURERS' EXCHANGE.
There was a very large attendance, yesterday morning, at the meeting of the Mechanics' and Manufacturers' Exchange. President Runyan occupied the chair, and after the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the following persons were elected to membership:
Henry David, perfumer, proposed by James Hume; John D. Clarkson, plasterer, by Ayres & Craven; Curiner & Colter, manufacturers of atover and hollow-ware, by John E. Green; Wm. S. Lape, tin and sheet iron worker, by S. Starisman; Robert R. Wolfington, blacksmith, by James S. Pollock; George H. Lawyer, manufacturer of printing presses, David Bolles, marble works, by George W. Runyan; C. O. Andress, paper hanging, by A. C. Parry. The Committees on Statistics, Banks, United States Fair, Constitution and By-Laws, Price Current and Circular, reported progress.
Mr. Hedges submitted the following preamble and resolution, of which he had previously notified the members:

Wenness, The experience of every age has fully established the importance of a more thorough education of the young men—apprentices in the various manufactories and trades of our country—into the principles and workings of their various manufactories and trades of our country—into the principles and workings of their various manufactories and trades of our country—into the principles and workings of their various manufactories and trades of our country—into the principles and workings of their various manufactories and trades of our country—into the principles and whereas, such education, and the time employed is obtaining it, would tend, materially, not only to assist in advancing the interest of the employer, but enlarge the mind, and prevent much of the misery, dissipation and weekchedness consequent upon ignorance and influence, therefore,

Con Fashion.

The sudience, isst night, at the Melodeon, was quite as large as on Saturday night, and the interest the petite Counters of Landsfeld awakened there seemed not to have diminished in the least. The lecture, however, was to us common-place and dull, containing many attempts at wit, but few successful ones, and altogether lacked the sparkle which one would naturally have been inclined to expect.

The lecturess began by stating that fashion originated in the misfortunes and vices of man and womankind, and referred to a great many circumstances mentioned in history in proof of her assertion. She spoke of navages who wore rings in their nones, but was not quite sure that the fashion was more absurd than for modern ladies to wear rings in their cars.

Religion had to be attended to in elegant church edifices and decked out in silk and brocade before it was sufficient to carry our souls to Heaven. The soundrel who ran away with his neighbors wife would be scener admitted into fashionable society than the man of intellect and culture, if he dared to eat with his knife instead of his fork.

A man coce, having a finely shaped leg and an excellent figure, had his pantaloons and coat out so as to fit it closely, and forthwith the promenades were filled with just such garments, made tight as the skin they covered, although they sometimes hid such awkward and crooked pipe-stems that whoever saw them was pained for fear that they would break, and thus kill the body they were destined to carry.

In China the prevailing fashion had, for them was passed for fear that they would break, and thus kill the body they were destined to carry.

In China the prevailing fashion had, for centuries, been small feet, and they were so pinched in childhood that in maturity persons were almost unable to walk. This was not altogether a had fashion, for in her opinion there were a number of men who wished their wife's feet were too small to permit them to walk, and many wives who just as heartily wished the feet of their husbands were at least small enough to keep them at home at night. The Elisabethian age produced hoop skirts and high-healed shoes. Skirts were then worn seventeen feet in circumference, and it took a very wide street which would allow one woman to pass through it, while two filled it up completely. Even now, men, instead of railing at women for the space they occupy, ought to be gratefully and humbly thankful that they occupy no more; for they prevented the necessity for a number of skirts, and many a female was now dead upon whose body a verdict might be justly rendered of "Died of too much Petticoat."

The lexitoress leahed sociaty for the semi-

The lecturess lashed society for the semi-The lecturess lashed society for the semi-nude style in which its members dressed, and verbally and metsphorically out off all the whiskers and moustschies in the country. She said the fashion in politics changed three times oftener than the ladies changed their bonnets; spoke of the Circussian slaves, how they exhibited their beauty to their purchas-ers, and found, in this, an opportunity to tell mammas that she had often seen the same trapible taken in this country, for the number of mammas that she had often seen the same trouble taken in this country, for the purpose of knocking daughters off to the highest matrimonial bidder.

The lecture was about an hour long, and was patiently listened to until the close. On Wednesday, Lola will express her opinion in regard to "Btrong-minded Women," and as it will be her last lacture, we doubt not the house will be again filled to repletion.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT AT SELF-DESTRUCTION—A MAN SHOOTS HIMBELF IN THE PRESENCE OF HIS FAMILT.—On Saturday evening a man named Adam Baier, residing on Hamburg-street, near the Hamilton-road, attempted self-destruction by shooting himself. It appeared that he had been drinking to excess during the week previous, and for this reason his wife upbraided him without apparently sympathising with the cause that led to the condition in which he had kept himself. While listening to her harsh words he suddenly became desperate, and, drawing a pistol, placed the musule near his left breast and discharged the contents into his body. By some accident, he were, the ball glanced, and, taking an upward direction, lodged near the shoulder. His family consisting of seven children were about him at the time, and, horror-struck at an act the possibility of which seemed never to have entered their minds, ran hither and thither apparently more than half-crazed. During the excitement, however, a physician was called, who examined and dressed the wound, and the wounded man is now in a fair condition for nitimate resources. DESPERATE ATTEMPT AT SELF-DESTRUCTION nd the wounded man is now in a fair dition for ultimate recovery.

THE NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL FAIR .- A THE NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—A meeting of those interested in having the next Annual Exhibition of the National Agricultural Society held in this city, will take place this afternoon at one o'clock, at the rooms of the Cincinnati Horticultural Society, in Bacon's Buildings. The matter is one of great interest to the city, and we earnestly hope every endeavor will be made to induce the officers of that society to decide upon this as the location for the next National Fair.

Highway Robbert.—About one o'clock yesterday morning, a Pittaburgher named John M. Stevens, was knocked down by a couple of ruffians while walking along Court-street near Walnut, and robbed of $75 in money and a watch worth a similar sum. The scoundrelf left their victim upon the sidewalk half unconscious and made their escape, while he, after some difficulty, managed to find his way to the steamboat-landing, and left yesterday for his home.

A Hurger Trues. — Some fellow, more hungry than honest, night before last, stole four barrels of pork from the establishment of J. Steele & Co., on Hunt-street, near Broadway. No clue has been obtained as to who he was, but it is to be hoped that feeding upon the meat may improve his conscience.

BURGLARY ON FOURTH-STREET.—The resi dence of Dr. Garretson, Fourth-street, near Central-avenue, was feloniously entered, night before last, but the burglar succeeded in car-rying off nothing save a bracelet marked "Agnes Garretson."

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Mary Bowen vs. J. M. Thompson.—Judge Storer decided this case. The plaintiff, two years ago, was the owner of a house and to at College Hill, and agreed to sell the same to defendant for $0.000, $1.000 in money, $1.000 by the assumption of a mortgage, the balance ($1.000 to be paid by the conveyance of land in Jasper County, Ind. The bill was filed by her to vacate the contract.

Contract set aside, and part put in the position they occupied before it was made.

W. C. Harry vs. J. R. Whaley. The plaintiff brought his section to recover money lost at play by J. B. Davis. The suit was instituted under a clause in the statute which allows any person to sue for and recover money lost at gaming by any other person, provided the latter does not sue for it within six months.

Demurrer to petition sustained.

THINGY VS. STARMOAT VILER,—Action to recover the value of marchandize shipped on board this boat and not delivered. The property was shipped at St. Louis, and taken from there to Lake Popia, in Minnesota. On arrival of the boat at Dubuque the goods were re-shipped on board another craft. When the latter boat arrived at the point where the property was to be delivered it was found that some of the articles were not forthcoming.

Held by Judge Storer that the contract was not performed by the defendant; that the Virse had no anthority to re-ship. Judgment for plaintiff.

BEYONG JUDGE HOADLEY,—Rebecca Honsyman vs. The Executors of J. B. Walbridge, An action brough to recover between $6,000 and $6,000 for services rendered by plaintiff as housekeeper to Mr. Walbridge.

Mr. J. left a will dividing the bulk of his property to the Oncinuati Orphan Angium and The Widow's Home. He left $200 a year to the plaintiff, with a provise that false evel upon any Jurther claim this bequest was to be ferfelled.

A STATETING GLIMAX.—The New York Day Book says of Spurgeon, the sensation preacher: He has a huge voice, a great deal of breas, a smattering of terming, a subdeed vulgarity, burly figure, a batchesiy hund, a higoted soul, a little mind and as Aboliticalet.

Price's OPERA-HOUSE — THE SEA OF ICE was produced at this establishment last night to quite a fine sudiance, and was semirably caucated. It has been put upon the stage with taste, and skill, and laworthy a viole. Mrs. On way as "Oparies" increased our admiration for her considerably, for the pathos and six plicity which she dust, as a haio, about the character. The other parts osened to be well cast, a though we saw not the entire play, we are inclined to the ballet that as a speciale, it has never before been so well produced in the West. It will be repeated this evening.

Wood's Theatre.—This cosy establishment was well filled last night, and the audience seemed delighted with the performance. This evening Mr. Collins will appear as "McShane" in the play of The Nanyous Manamerte Mas or Enzye and as "Fitz-rocket" in The Islan Genius.

NATIONAL TREATER.—The first performance of the Octobox drew quite a large andience to the Mational last night, we are intormed, but as we were unable to witness the play, we of course can not speak of its merit. It will be repeated this even-

HOME CONCERTS.—Quite a long and admirably selected programme has been published for the concert this evening at Bmith & Mixon's Hall. This is the first of a series for the encouragement of home talent, to be given by F. W. Rauch, and we trust they may be largely attended. Among the performers we notice the names! of some of our best amateurs, and, as the price has been put at twenty-five cents, thus being within the reach of all classes, we doubt not the hall will be crowded.

Police Mayress.—Two men, Christian King and Michael Rect, were yesterday fined $10 and costs each, in the Police Court, for a breach of the peace committed some time since. They have been absent from the city since the offense was committed until yesday, when justice was administered to them by the Mayor.

The Fram South Lawsutts.—Mr. Balley yesterday applied for and obtained a change of venue to the county of Kenton, in the suits instituted by him against J. Q. A. Foster and others. After the change had been granted, the suits were all dismissed at the instance of SLANDER SUIT .- The Circuit Court was engaged during the greater part of yesterday in trying the case of Vickers cs. Abbot, in which the plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $5,000, for slanderous reports alleged to have been put in circulation against her by the defendant.

She was married to Rev. Mr. Vickers, some she was married to Kev. Mr. Violers, some time since, who applied for and obtained a decree nullifying their marriage, in November last, having lived with her but a few days. Mrs. V. alleges that the difficulty between herself and husband arose from the reports put in circulation by Abbott, and she now asks damages for the injury sustained. The case will be concluded to-day.

DEATH BY CREMATION .- The little daughter of Mr. McGay, whose critical condition we noticed yesterday, expired last night, after suffering the most intense agony. This is the second child burnt to death in this city, within CONTEMPT OF COURT .- Two attorneys were fined $5 each, by Judge Moore, yesterday, for using personal epithess toward each other, and failing to desist when ordered.

NATURALIZATION.—Fourteen persons were esturalized in the Circuit Court on Saturday

RELIEF TO THE POOR .- During the two weeks ending on Thursday evening last, the Committee on Poor distributed three hundred and twelve bushels of coal, and $52 50 in COVINGTON NEWS.

Police Matters.—Four persons, John Heneral, Jas. Baker, Chas. A. Benson and H. Slaughter, were fined $3 and costs each, for drunkenness, in the Police Court yesterday.

RENOVATION OF THE CITY CLERK'S OPPION. Mr. Rieke, City Clerk, is thoroughly renovating, cleaning, and newly papering the room in which his office is located. This has been needed for some time past, and we are glad that Mr. R. has undertaken the task.

SPORTING EXCURSION.-Captain John Mead. and a number of others, left yesterday morning, for Indiana, on a pigeon-shooting excursion. As these birds are exceedingly plentiful in the country, we have no doubt their excursion will prove successful. MAN DROWSED .- A citizen of Covington, named Richard Cordra, who is employed upon the steamboat —, in the capacity of a deck-hand, fell overboard, near Petersburg, Kantucky, on Saturday night last, and was drowned. His body has not yet been recovered. He leaves a wife and family residing in this city.

TEMPLE OF HONOR.—The members of the Mt. Sinai Social Temple of Honor will hold a meetng at their Hall this evening, at seven o'clock, Important business will be transacted.

County Court.—There were twenty-one deeds and ten mortgages recorded and nine marriage licenses granted by the Clerk of the County Court, last week.

POOR-HOUSE AND JAIL .- There were yester day, in the Poor-house, two men, eight women and twelve children. In the Jail, thirteen men and five women.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather yesterday was remarkably pleasant and business at the wharf was quite lively. The viver at this point was stationary, with thirteen feet in the channel hence to Louisville; but as heavy rains are reported above, a corresponding rise may be anticipated here. There is considerable ice in the river at Marietta, with eight feet of water and rising. Considerable freight was offered yesterday at the following rate:

THE WHEAT CROP.—The Belleville (III.) Advocate says: "All the farmers with whom we have had an opportunity of conversing unite in saying that the wheat in this vicinity has been much injured by the severity of the weather. Some fields—those which were sowed late—are supposed to be injured beyond recovery. Other fields, though somewhat injured, will probably recover upon the opening of spring. It is yet too early to decide upon the prospects of the crop.

DEATH OF A NAVAL OFFICER.—Capt. Horace B. Sawyer, U. S. N., died in Washington on Tuesday, aged about sixty-five years. Capt. Sawyer entered the navy in the year 1812, and at the time of the celebrated action between the Ogase and Levens, which occurred February 20, 1815, was a midshipman on the Constitution. Commodore Stewart commanded the Constitution at that time, and himself, and the present Commodore Shubrick, are now the only surviving officers. DEATH OF A NAVAL OFFICER.-Capt. Horse

A squaw in Western lows, got drunk on strychnine whisky recently, and when her husband undertook to control her, she seised a knife and laid him out, and then she cut out his heart. Several Indians looked on indifferently, as by their code, vengeance must be visited by relatives of the deceased.

Hous Agats .- A Mr. Sherman, Troy, N. Y., whose "mysterious disappear-ance" was chronicised in the papers last week, has returned. The Troy Time mys he is a "young married man," and that he absented himself to test his wifer affection for him.

tinnes to improve, however, and Bankers readily favor their friends to the extent of their ability at 10 pt 2 per cent.

The Eastern Exchange market is duil, and the offerings light. Hates continue firmat/i@foc. prem. buying, and is soiling.

A few Eastern Time-bills are done at Sali per cent. according to the quality of the Paper. New Orleans Sight and Time-bills are both duil, with very little doing in either.

God is duil, and Uncurrent Money unchanged.

Saturday's New York Herald, under date of Friday evening, observes:

The amount of Paper offering to-day at the discount houses has been larger than for some little time past. Many capitalists are antious to see what course monetary afairs are going to take in England, and are rather shy of long Paper. We cannot, however, quote any advance in rates: Choice short acceptances go at 6; first-class double-name Paper, 456 months. 7 per cent.; Money on call at 6, with coossional exceptions at 565%.

The desay at Washington in paying the Postoffice Cortificates creates some surprise; but the money is not needed, and what could be expected of the Trassury Department under its present management?

We note an advance in foreign exchange, especially france. A leading house is holding bills on Faris at 5,13% and 5,15%, which is an advance of '4 per cent., storling is pretty firmly held at 109, but to-day there was very little demand at this rate; for france there is more inquiry. We are rapidly approaching the period of the year at which exchange should advance to points which will admit of shipments of specie. Since the advance in the bank rate of discount in London, drawers are holding short sight bills 3/ of 1 per cent. above their 60 day bills.

The day goods dealers are again increasing their purchases of foreign goods, and swelling up the debt which by and by will shaw to be paid in gold. The import for the week ending to-day is 34,234,530. against $76,519 same week inst year, and $1,294,125. same week of 1852, see that, now, our aggregate imports since January 1

LIVELY TRADE IN SECOND-HAND COFFINE—DEAD PROFILE ROBERD.—A grave charge is preferred by some of the journals against the undertakers of New York city, the sum and substance of which is, that some of the fraternity are in the habit of going to the New York Bay Cemetery and digging up the handsome and expensive coffins in which the dead have been recently buried to take them back to their warerooms to be re-sold to future customers. So, then, according to this, when a man dies in New York, there is no assurance that his mortal remains will remain with mother earth, undisturbed, nor that his bones will be permitted to repose in the coffin his money has paid for. When one shuffles off this mortal coil, he had better emigrate to some place where the grave is undisturbed by the ghouls and vampires in which New York would seem to abound.

W. H. Shward.—The Post's Washington correspondence writes that Mr. Seward "has a great speech prepared upon the slavery question, which he will deliver when, according to his judgment, the fitting opportunity occurs. Those persons who report that Mr. Seward will now take a backward step will be greatly mistaken, though, of course, it is probable that he will answer the false allegations of Southern men who have belied his principles."
